3; @end Q: Set default value for inputs with

undefined value attribute

What would be the easiest way to set the default value for an input that can be potentially undefined or null? I could test it with a custom data attribute and/or a default value, but I am still curious about the right way to do this. A: Not exactly sure how you wish to react if the value is not provided, but here is a way to get it done (in JS):

let input_val = "default val"; document.querySelector('input[value=undefined]').value = input_val;
